WILSON WINS MORE DELEGATES

NEW YORK FLOPS WITH THUD

PLUTOCRATS ABED WITH SONS O' TOIL

Blythe Sees Some Oddly Assorted
Political Conspirators Bunking Together

By SAMUEL G. BLYTHE

(Copyright 1912 by Samuel G. Blythe.)

BALTIMORE, June 27.—Politics worked overtime at its traditional trade of making strange bedfellows in Baltimore yesterday and by midnight had the most complete collection of oddly assorted conspirators bunking with one another any convention has produced since the Bryan stampede in 1896.

Lions and lambs were occupying the same trundels and hyenas and hares had identical room numbers. Predaceous plutocrats were jolly old pals with horny-handed sons of toil, and slaves of mammon linked arms and toddled off to bed with severely plain representatives of the plain people.

Captains of finance turned in with privates of the same, and the varying changes of the day made a kaleidoscope look like a painting of still life, one of those little things that common folks hang in their dining-rooms, showing the artist's idea of what a peach, a plum, a banana and a sirloin steak do not look like.

Do not misunderstand me. It was not harmony that brought about these combinations, coalitions and confederacies. It was the lack of harmony congested with ardent attempts to get something in return for the associations.

The predaceous plutes did not consort with the horny-handed because they liked to, but because they had to. It was a case of force, as were all the other alliances. Each party to each union wanted something for himself, hence each one endured the conjunction in the hope of ultimate personal emolument.

FOR GOOD OF THE PARTY.

The announced reason for all the maneuvering, plotting, trimming, trading, coaxing, threatening, cajoling, arguing, dealing, single and double-crossing was for the good of the party. The real reason, of course, was the hope each intriguer had of getting something over he wanted himself. Inasmuch as the most selfish and mercenary pursuit on earth is politics, its exponents in Baltimore on Wednesday played it as selfishly as possible, and at night there were a large number of wilted collars, wilted nerves, of nebulous hopes, and a large number of conditions that would not stand the acid test.

The most interesting feature of the day was the condition of the predaceous plutocrats and the men who prey for them in politics. They began a trembling before the temporary chairman roll-call was completed on Tuesday and they had not stopped at midnight. The plutes are scared ever since they discovered how narrow was the margin which they defeated Bryan.

Thomas F. Ryan, as captain-general of the plutocrats, sat most of the day in the apartment he hired and received reports from scouts and from sub-plutocrats he has in his train.

Mr. Ryan was visibly disturbed. Rather, to be exact about it, he was invisibly disturbed so far as the public was concerned, for only a few of the chosen were admitted to his presence. Ryan's condition was clearly apparent in the nervousness of his satellites and his handy men. They were disturbed, too.

'T WAS ENOUGH, AT THAT.

When you come to think of it, it is enough to agitate and annoy any plutocrat who comes to Baltimore to wipe William Jennings Bryan off the map and only succeeds in smudging the place on the map Mr. Bryan occupies instead of cleaning it up.

Moreover, there was another phase of it that plagued Mr. Ryan and his friends. Woodrow Wilson typifies that phase.

Mr. Ryan and his seconds are Baltimoreing this week with two avowed intentions. One is to depose Bryan, and the other is to defeat Wilson. Each project is dear to the hearts of the reactionaries, so after they had canvassed the situation, and had recomputed the vote in the convention on Tuesday, they were not

FAKIR BEGGING MONEY FROM SOCIETY WOMEN

A well dressed young man is going from door to door begging $1 from women. He claims he is seeking an education as a mining engineer; that he will give a magazine for the money. The fellow is good looking; about 28 years of age and of slick manners. He carries a list of all the prominent society women and says they are helping him. The young man is a fraud and a faker and is bunking the women. When they do not give him the dollar he insults the person who refuses him the coin. The officers are now looking for him.

San Francisco's Consolidation
Plans to Be Opposed to Last Ditch

Aggressive defense of the integrity of the cities of the east bay region against the attempt of San Francisco to absorb a portion of Alameda and Contra Costa counties was planned at a preliminary conference of representatives of the civic and commercial organizations of this side of the bay held at the Chamber of Commerce last night. The conferees went into executive session to discuss the best means of placing a stick in the spokes of San Francisco's steam roller, which is threatening to crush out the life and identity of Oakland and the surrounding communities.

Unanimity of opinion as to the need of an aggressive campaign to enlighten the voters of Oakland and the nearby cities as to the danger of invasion of their rights was expressed by all those present. Flery addresses, expressing the indignation of the conferees at the attempt of San Francisco to initiate legislation to make it possible to gag and bind Oakland and hand the city over helpless and without means of protection to her rival were made last night, and the law which San Francisco is attempting to have passed was denounced as the most pernicious legislation ever projected even by that city.

READY FOR FIGHT.

Three features of the fight against being rolled up by the outside municipality were agreed upon at the executive session last night, according to a formal statement issued by President W. E. Gibson after the meeting was over. These are as follows:

First, an aggressive, watchful and unflinching fight will be made by all the civic organizations of the cities along the east bay shore until all danger of being taken over against their will is past.

Second, a gigantic mass meeting will be held in the near future to voice the bitter protest of the people of this side of the bay against the unfair and un-American tactics employed by San Francisco to further her ambition of gaining control of the cities of the bay region.

Third, a campaign fund of $100,000 for the defense against

Seamen's Strike Is Cause of Big Loss

PARIS, June 27.—The French government is considerably disturbed over the seamen's strike which is causing a tremendous loss to French shipping. The strikers have accepted the suggestion of arbitration and the government has made another plea to the shipowners to follow a similar course, but the latter again today declined to do so, saying it was impossible to grant higher wages.

GOVERNOR JUDSON HARMON OF OHIO, WHO ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT HE WAS STILL CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT.

PLATFORM DRAFTED BY BRYAN AND O'GORMAN

Democrats Fashion Planks Behind Closed

BALTIMORE, June 27.—W. J. Bryan and Senator O'Gorman, who were designated to prepare a draft of the platform, completed their work at 2:30 p. m.

BALTIMORE, June 27.—William J. Bryan and Senator O'Gorman of New York will write the platform of the Democratic national convention.

When the working sub-committee of the committee on resolutions met today the members found themselves without a platform draft of sufficient cohesiveness to form a basis for the committee's operations and a conclusion was arrived at speedily to appoint a second sub-committee to prepare a draft for the convenience of the sub-committee and later for the full committee, and Bryan and O'Gorman were designated to perform that service.

STRIP OFF COATS.

Bryan and O'Gorman turned one of the big committee rooms of the convention hall into a workshop and the announcement was made that there would be neither coming in nor going out while they were at work. Two stalwart sentinels were placed at the door and admission was refused to all.

Bryan told some of his friends that the platform would be "an essentially progressive document." Especial stress will be laid on the tariff plank which will declare for a tariff for revenue only. The Democratic House of Representatives will be commended for its work in the downward revision of the tariff schedules and the party will be pledged to continue its labors in that line.

PRESIDENT CONDEMNED.

The attitude of the president will be condemned, and the Republican party charged with breach of faith in failing to perform its promises of four years ago.

A strong plank in support of Mississippi river improvement is promised and Senator Vardaman of Mississippi and Representative Froussard of Louisiana have been delegated to prepare it.

Referendum and recall will be inferentially endorsed as progressive measures, but the carrying out of these plans of government will be relegated to the party in the various states.

Planks strongly endorsing an income tax, the direct election of senators and primary elections are expected.

Steamer Carrying 600 in Collision With Big Dredge

CALAIS, Me., June 27.—Low tide prevented a heavy loss of life early today when the steamer Grand Manan, carrying 600 excursionists, struck a dredge in the St. Croix river. The second engineer of the dredge, James Carr of East Boston, who was asleep, was crushed to death. No one else on either the dredge or the steamer was injured. After striking the dredge, the Grand Manan began leaking and the passengers were transferred to another steamer in small boats. There was no danger of sinking as the tide was low. A misunderstanding of signals is believed to have caused the accident.

Great demonstration is made for Wilson.

Convention adjourns at 3:54 until 8 p. m. tonight.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—At 3:54 today the Democratic national convention took a recess until 8 p. m.

BALTIMORE, June 27.—The Bryan-Wilson progressives won another victory in the Democratic convention today when the delegates overturned the report of the credentials committee and seated 10 Wilson delegates from South Dakota.

The Wilson supporters claimed that the vote made the nomination of Woodrow Wilson a practical certainty. New York's 90 votes, which yesterday went to the Clark-Harmon combination, were today cast in a block for the Wilson delegates. The announcement of New York's vote was greeted with cheers from the Wilson delegates.

The vote was: Yes, 633 1/2; no, 437; not voting, 5 1/2; absent, 2.

Senator-elect Ollie James was elected permanent chairman of the convention on report of the committee on permanent organization and he was escorted to the platform in the midst of a great ovation. Following his keynote speech the convention adjourned until 8 p. m.

HALL IS STORMED.

Storming the doors of the convention hall, brushing doorkeepers and sergeants-at-arms aside, and defying the inadequate force of police, thousands of ticketless spectators forced their way into the armory here today for the third session of the Democratic national convention.

The day opened promising 57 varieties of excitement. Not alone were the South Dakota contests to be fought out, forcing a fine-up of the delegates, but the nomination itself was near, scheduled to be made even today. These things drew the vast multitude to the armory. They jammed the aisles, lined the window ledges, crawled into the steel girders overhead and flanked the delegates with a solid mass of humanity.

Mrs. Taft, wife of the President, occupied one of the front boxes, the guest of Mrs. Mack, wife of the Democratic national chairman.

BUSY ON PLATFORM.

To Bryan and O'Gorman today were given the task and honor of drafting the Democratic platform, and this the two did behind closed and guarded doors. Bryan gave it out that the platform would be "essentially progressive." Especial stress will be laid on the tariff plank, which will declare for a tariff for revenue only.

so sure they are accomplishing either undertaking, and they began feverishly looking for a way.

The only way they could discover is the Champ Clark way. They learned early in the week that they might as well abandon the plan of naming Harmon, or Underwood, or any other conservative. They learned that the temper of this convention, and of the Democratic party as a whole, demands a progressive nominee on a progressive platform. So they quit trying to be their preferred kind of conservative and set about to be as conservative as the convention will allow them to be.

It is inexpedient from their viewpoint to nominate Wilson, and the only certain way they can figure out to defeat Wilson is with Clark, the other leading candidate. So they set about trying to find out where they stand with Clark and how much they will have to do to name him.

Their plans contemplated an endeavor to name Clark on the first ballot, for they thought this the only way to eradicate the Bryan influence, which they assert is with Wilson, and eradicate Bryan some more, simultaneously.

LARGE STONE IS PREPARED.

They prepared a large stone with which to kill two birds at one and the same time. This preparation necessitated various rather interesting alliances as outlined in the foregoing proof of the axiom that politicians make strange bedfellows.

Still lack of compatibility did not stand in the way. Far better for the plutocrats and their friends to associate, for the time, with common people, if the common people can aid them in the high and holy cause in which they are embarked, said cause being to grab all they can out of it for themselves, both now and in the future.

Wednesday was a Clark day. The speaker was stronger than at any other time, and any wise persons predicted his nomination on various ballots ranging from the first to the third. The Wilson people were fully aware of this commanding position of Clark and they worked early and late to get sufficient support to secure a two-fifths of the convention that shall stand out against Clark for such a time as it may be necessary. On a rock-bottom basis, the Wilson people have not a two-fifths vote in the convention. They lack quite some votes of controlling that useful minority.

The number is approximately a hundred. So the Wilson people hurried about and formed all alliances they could in the effort to get enough recruits to enable them to block the nomination of Clark on the first ballot. Mr. Bryan helped deftly, rolling the waters now and then.

HAVE MOST ANNOYING DAY.

The plutocrats and their handy men and many others not identified with the Ryan outfit, but sincerely for Clark, planned and combined and fussed and fumed and thought up plans and threw plans down and generally had a most annoying day.

The real plan was to push Clark over on the first ballot. In this the Hearst-Murphy combination, the celebrated triple alliance of Murphy, Sullivan and Taggart, a most formidable partnership controlling 178 votes, and various others, both limited and unlimited, were invoked and prayed with and coaxed.

Various ingenious schemes were evolved. One contemplated a method of breaking instructions. It was proposed to introduce a rule in the convention that shall not allow any delegation to change its vote until after the roll-call had been completed. This is fine politics, of the real machiavelian brand, for it raises a question as to what instructions mean.

For example, suppose a state is instructed for Harmon, and on the first roll-call votes for Harmon. Then, after the completion of the roll-call, the chairman rises and says his delegates have changed their minds and desire to vote for Clark, or any other candidate. Does the fact that the delegation voted on the roll-call pay their instructions and leave them free to go as they will before another ballot?

Of course this looks like paying an obligation with bogus money, but these are parlous times and politics is an inviolated and a convoluted business.

The Clark men and their newly-found friends are very anxious to close it all up on the first ballot. The Wilson men are equally anxious to remain in Baltimore for an indefinite period and vote regularly for Wilson on every ballot. The other candidates are mostly dicker with the idea of obtaining mattresses to fall on when it comes time for them to fall.

PROGRESSIVE MUST BE NAMED.

It is certain a progressive must be nominated. Hence the query arises: Will the convention take a Clark kind of a conservative, Clark being the one to be taken? Or will it demand the Wilson kind of progressive, the highest exponent thereof being Wilson, the main contention? The attempt to solve it might easily bring a third man into active consideration. Perhaps it will; nobody in this town could make an intelligent guess on that Tuesday night.

It was announced that Mr. Bryan is preparing, has prepared, or will prepare, to announce his abandonment of Clark. It is possible he may make that announcement between the writing and printing of this. Bryan has been see-sawing between Wilson and Clark for a long time, and in his speech on Tuesday morning mentioned them both as having been acceptable to him at a time previous to the selection of Judge Parker for temporary chairman.

There is a feeling that Mr. Bryan eventually will go with Roosevelt. Many persons say he certainly will, but one of Mr. Bryan's most marked attributes is keeping his own counsel. That, also, has been one of his weaknesses. He has always tried to be his own organization and depended on his power to rally his supporters into action by oratory rather than to have them ready for action by organization.

Francis J. Heney saw him, which may or may not be significant, as Mr. Heney is not adverse to a little publicity now and then and may have foreseen a few paragraphs in the public prints following a sudden descent by him on Bryan and Baltimore.

Mr. Bryan spent the day in casually dropping a bomb here and there in places where bombs seemed to him to be needed. They offered to make him chairman of the resolutions committee and he declined, saying he preferred to have another occupy that important post, and they chose John W. Kern.

STROLLS AROUND AND ABOUT.

Having declined to preside over the deliberations of the committee, Mr. Bryan ever and anon strolled into the meeting place and caused consternation by introducing various resolutions. One related to what he claimed was the necessary purging of the Democratic party of various eminent gentlemen who have hitherto been wont to point to their democracy with the one hand and to hold their real motives in the other hand, high up behind the back.

Another of Mr. Bryan's little nick-nacks related to the adoption of a platform after the nomination is made, on the suspicion that the ruling forces of the convention might try to take the course off a progressive nomination by a conservative platform. This was Mr. Bryan's little idea and the resolutions committee and the rules committee adopted it, thinking the plan harmless and desiring to keep Mr. Bryan in good humor. The plan is subject to ratification by the convention, but there seems to be no important objection to it.

Nor will Mr. Bryan have such difficulty in getting what he

'Clips Tail of Ryan's Cat'

BALTIMORE, Maryland, June 27.—William J. Bryan remarked before leaving to attend the deliberations of the resolutions committee this morning "that the convention yesterday clipped off the tail of Thomas F. Ryan's cat."

The Nebraska leader had previously depicted Ryan, the New York financier, as crawling a cat-o-nine-tails over the convention.

"Then the course of progressivism is moving along more smoothly?"

"Well, the proceedings yesterday," replied Bryan, "would not indicate that they had made any treads on us."

Long before Bryan arose this morning a group of delegates had gathered around his door to see him. Bryan had no statement to make on the situation, but that the course of events within the last 24 hours had been very pleasing to him he makes no attempt to conceal.

PRaise FOR BRYAN.

"However much we may differ in national conventions upon minor questions, all just men admit that the one living American whose name will shine in history studied by a thousand flaming stars alone beside that of Jefferson and Jackson, is that of William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska. "The Democratic Congress has only Our Republican opponents said we were unfriendly to the union heroes of the Civil War. But behold the record of Democratic congress, still in session. It remained for us to give the most liberal pensions to those deserving men in their declining years, that their old age might be made serene and bright. The war is over and that flag, the brightest, dearest colors ever knit together in a banner of the free, waves above a united people, where it is loved by every heart and would be defended by every hand. "And coming from the south as I do I can say that if Abraham Lincoln were alive this day there is not a foot of soil under Dixie's skies upon which he might not pitch his tent and pillow his head upon a Confederate soldier's knee and sleep, and sleep in safety there."

Harmon Remains in Race, He Declares

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 27.—Governor Judson Harmon was awaiting a telephone call from Baltimore early today. "I positively have not withdrawn from the presidential race," he declared. "My name will be presented at Baltimore."

The governor refused to make any comment on the proceedings at the Democratic national convention and would not say that he would support whatever candidate might be nominated.

wants in the platform. He can have almost anything along the line of resolutions and it is understood that he had striking ones prepared.

Kentucky's favorite and largest son, Ollie James, was chosen for permanent chairman. Ollie may be depended upon to rip the eternal stars out of the burning sky, or the burning stars out of the eternal sky, as it happens, when he does his key-note.

All the flowers of speech grow in Ollie's garden of rhetoric. Demosthenes had nothing on him—Demosthenes, as is well known, being a small man and Ollie measuring six feet seven from tip to tip and weighing some 300 or thereabouts.

As night closed the ruling forces, being determined to defeat Wilson, and being much frightened over the prospect, had about decided the only man they can beat Wilson with is Clark. Of course there was much talk of another and compromise candidate, in which the names of Gaynor, Kern and others figured, but the day closed with events distinctly shaping in Clark's favor. He may not be nominated, but as this is written, he has the better chance.

DEFEAT OF RULE PLEASES WILSON

Demonstration for Principle, Not Man, Declares New Jersey Man.

SEA GIRT, N. J., June 27.—Governor Wilson was elated today at the action of the Democratic national convention last night on the unit rule. "I have always maintained," he said, "that where delegates are instructed by districts in a primary they should vote accordingly and not be bound by the unit rule. For instance, here in New Jersey we have 24 of the 28 delegates—an overwhelming majority—yet we have never dreamed of enforcing the unit rule. The action of the convention shows that it is a progressive gathering. I believe it was taken without regard to any man's candidacy."

The governor said he was much gratified by the demonstration given him in the convention last night, but regarded it more as a demonstration for "progressives" than as a personal triumph. "While it was called a Wilson demonstration," he added, "I am inclined to think it was a case of demonstration for principle rather than for a candidate."

UNIT RULE GETS STAGGERING BLOW

Democratic Progressives Win Night Victory at Convention in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 27.—The Progressives in the Democratic National Convention claimed a notable victory last night when they carried a nation-sweeping rule by which some state delegations were bound to cast their vote as a unit.

The rule, as adopted, reads: "Resolved, that in casting votes on a call of the states the chair shall recognize and enforce the rule enacted by a state convention except in such states as have, by mandatory statute, provided for the nomination and election of delegates and alternates to national political districts and have not subjected delegates so selected to the authority of the state committee or convention of the party, in which case no such rule shall be held to apply."

The fight for and against the unit rule waged particularly about the state of Ohio, where eighteen district delegates had been instructed by primaries to vote for Woodrow Wilson, but where the state convention, controlled by the Harmon forces, had invoked the unit rule binding all Ohio delegates to the Ohio governor.

The convention, by a vote of 565 1/2 to 491 1/2, voted that no state delegation should be bound by unit control except in such cases where a state law was mandatory on the subject.

Wilson supporters in the convention, who earlier in the evening had carried on a demonstration lasting thirty-three minutes, regarded the vote as distinctly favorable. The Wilson boom had been growing throughout the day.

WILSON GAINS.

Wilson gained and Harmon lost sixteen votes from the Ohio delegation as a result of the fight. It was said that the abrogation of the rule might lead to breaks in other delegations and this left the presidential race tonight in greater doubt than ever.

New York's solid block of ninety votes was cast, amid hisses and groans, in favor of continuing the unit rule. Missouri, the home state of Champ Clark, split 28 to 7 in favor of the unit rule and this result was received with groans.

When Nebraska and Kansas voted solidly for the abrogation of the unit rule there were cheers from the Wilson forces. Pennsylvania, a Wilson state, gave a big majority for abrogation.

There had been talk during the day of a growing sentiment in the New York delegation in favor of Wilson. The delegation voted against the unit rule tonight in casting its ballot against the proposition fostered by the New Jersey Governor's supporters.

The fight over the unit rule carried the evening session well along toward midnight. The report from the committee on credentials then was received. As there was a minority report, requiring discussion, an adjournment was decided on until noon today.

VOte IS DECISIVE.

The vote by which the convention abrogated the unit rule, so far as primary states are concerned, was as follows:

Protest to Be Carried Direct to State Railroad Commission.

SAN LEANDRO, June 27.—Incensed over what they declare to be the failure of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company to keep its promises to improve the local telephone service and lower the rates, the merchants of San Leandro threw down the gauntlet last night at a second meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce and voted not to entertain a communication from the telephone company specifying the improvements it was willing to make and take taken up the matter with the railroad commissioners. The secretary of the chamber has sent a formal complaint to the board reading in part as follows:

"We beg your honorable board to issue a permanent order to the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company preventing it from discontinuing the Oakland service to residents of this city and denying those privileges; to prevent said company from raising the rates of any telephone subscribers within the city."

"The second request is made to prevent this company from retaining by raising rates. Regarding the third request this chamber is strongly under the belief that the practice of charging 10 cents for tolls between San Leandro and Oakland, the latter being annexed to San Leandro, is absolutely illegal."

At the close of the complaint, which will be filed with the board of commissioners late this afternoon, the chamber reserved the right to go deeper into the alleged ill of the local telephone service. A letter was sent to G. M. Bush, assistant general manager of the telephone company, reading as follows:

"At a joint meeting of the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce last night it was unanimously decided not to entertain your ambiguous communication of the 26th inst. making proposals for improvement of the local service."

The action of the chamber was taken following a report by a special citizens' committee which had waited upon the officials of the telephone company in an effort to bring about an agreement.

ANNUAL CATNIP TREAT SETS LIONS REVELLING

NEW YORK, June 27.—The lions in the Central Park menagerie had their annual catnip treat the other day when a woman who has provided delight for the big cat animals for some years past tossed a good quantity of it into the cages where the two-year-old cubs are inclosed. The cubs were named by Commissioner Stover, and are called Akbar, Timur, Jumna and Sheba.

In the general melee that took place, one of the cubs found catnip in their cages. It was hard to tell which was which. One which looked like Akbar and equally as much like Timur rolled about in the catnip for several minutes with all the abandon of a cat, but in a rather awkward fashion. Some of the spectators thought the cubs were having fits. The manager of the menagerie, however, said that the cubs were looking after their amusement with yearly regularity. One man presents Miss Murphy, the hippo, with a mince pie once a year.

HILLSBORO RESIDENTS WILL FIGHT EVICTION

REDWOOD CITY, June 27.—Edward Howard, Francis Howard, J. B. Casserly and other residents of Hillsborough yesterday petitioned Superior Judge George Buck of San Mateo county to grant them an injunction restraining Treasurer Henry Hagen of San Mateo from selling their estates in the town of Hillsborough for delinquency in the matter of paying a sewer tax.

The case is a test one and involves all the property holders of Hillsborough, which is known as El Cerrito Park.

The sewers of lower Hillsborough are connected with the sewers of the city of San Mateo. The aristocratic colony was incorporated two years ago last April and there has existed a question of law as to whether citizens of Hillsborough should pay a tax to San Mateo for the sewer privilege.

GEN. W. W. WOTHERSPOON.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Taft sent to the Senate today the nomination of Brigadier-General W. W. Wotherspoon, now in command of the Department of the Gulf, to be Major-General; Clarence R. ONE BIRD A FIGHTER, ONE AN ALARM CLOCK

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 27.—Two birds, one of unidentified species and the other a woodpecker, are being discussed in Edwardsville. Incidents are related by two well-known and never-doubted citizens.

Thursday night, while working in his garden, Paul Mammon, a carpenter, was pecked on the back of the head by a bird. The blow was so hard that he fell to the ground and was dazed for several minutes. Mrs. Mammon was standing near and saw the bird swoop down upon him.

When Mammon related the story to Jacob Bast, his landlord, Bast said he had figured in an incident similar near the same place two years ago. Bast and Mrs. Mammon declare the bird was as large as a big owl.

Edward Ballweg, a druggist, has been awakened every morning at 5:30 o'clock for several weeks by a woodpecker, which is regular in its advent. Half an hour earlier the woodpecker taps on the eavesdrought until it arouses Mrs. Ballweg, and then goes to Ballweg's room to wake him.

The average man can think he ought to get elected to office on the way his whiskers grow.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC LOSES LAND CASE

Railroad Is Ordered to Pay $750,000 for Van Ness Avenue Property.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The Southern Pacific's appeal from a superior court judgment ordering it to abide by certain contracts made in 1907 to buy three blocks of Van Ness avenue water front property, was lost yesterday when the State supreme court rendered a decision upholding the superior court judgment. The State supreme court's action, in effect, means that the Southern Pacific must pay $750,000 for the property at issue, the valuation of which it endeavored to repudiate.

Ellen Dore, Charlotte E. Dore, Maurice Dore, William B. Sharp, Clara E. Folger and Thomas L. Kearney were the property owners who opposed the railroad. The Dore, Sharp, Folger and Kearney entered into an agreement with the Southern Pacific in the early months of 1907 by which the railroad purchased three blocks of property at the foot of Van Ness avenue, east of Fort Mason. The railroad then desired the property for the use of terminal facilities by which to connect with Sausalito boats and it was also said at the time that a tunnel would be constructed to give quicker entrance to the heart of the city.

Agents of the Southern Pacific were employed to negotiate for the property and an agreement was made, by which the corporation agreed to pay $750,000 for the property.

AGREEMENT REPUDIATED.

Shortly after the agreement was signed the railroad repudiated it on the ground that its agents had no right to sign the agreement for the corporation. The property owners sought to enforce the contract in the courts. A board of appraisers was selected and conceded the value to be nominal. The railroad still insisted that the value was too high. In the lower courts the property owners won their case. In the supreme court decision, upholding the lower court, the justices have the following to say:

"The Southern Pacific claims that its agents acted without authority in signing the contract in question. The railroad corporation, however, in the position of employing persons as its confidential agents to carry on its business and then denies their authority to act in actions wherein such an action does not redound credit upon the corporation. The objection appears to be that the Southern Pacific did not offer some resolution to its board of directors, especially authorizing every detail of the business transacted."

By the decision of the court the Southern Pacific must now purchase the property at $750,000 and pay seven per cent interest on that sum since 1907.

GIANT CATFISH ARE BACK IN "BIG MUDDY"

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 27.—After a disappearance of nearly ten years from the Missouri river the big catfish which used to bring a harvest to fishermen have returned to the stream. Two of the largest ever seen have been caught lately, one weighing 150 pounds and the other 137 pounds, each of them nearly six feet long and having mouths large enough to hold a nail keg. The 150 pound catfish was caught in a net at Leavenworth. It sold for $15. The 137 pound fish was caught by a fisherman and sold for $13.75.

This fish was caught just below the Hannibal bridge in the harbor and not until it had overturned two boats and nearly succeeded in carrying away a 200 yard net was it landed. Its jaws were twenty inches across. Fishermen estimated its age at 95 years.

The fishermen say that following the flood of 1908, the large catfish disappeared from the river, and in fact for two or three years after the flood fish of all kinds were scarce.

RAGTIME AT ITS BEST ON STAGE OF BELL THEATER

MISS AUBRIA RICH.

To be popular at private week-end parties, one must be familiar with the latest rag dancing steps—to be thoroughly in harmony with the spirit of the occasion one must at least affect a fondness for ragtime music and songs.

And if you seem inefficient in these modern fads, then be at once to the Bell theater where the bill this week scintillates with the ragtime kind of rag. There you will have the opportunity of perhaps absorbing the first principles of ragtime, for it is served you in every conceivable form.

Ted Lenore and Aubria Rich are favored with perception that shows them the line between ragtime and rough wit. They take a firm hold on the great American jiggle and shake all the joy out of it. They please with songs. Mistle with Ivoried jangle and chuck you under the chin with bits that are as bonny as less witty. They are ragtime successes.

WINDOW IS BUSY.

Ruby Lang, in masculine attire, introduces her "rag" dolls with the modern, up-to-the-minute general understanding of the word "rag." They sing and dance and kick and "rag" and do it all in a manner that has kept the box office window a busy shrine.

Railton and Latour, in a whirlwind of variety, introduce more ragtime, add their contribution of syncopated melody to the bill and retire with merited applause.

To the Sinclairs belong laurels in quantity. They dare a lot and do a lot, pulling forth much that is new in vaudeville. The youngest member of the team is put through stunts that bring out your breath in gasps and compel you to hold onto your seat.

Albert Fench, he of the Yiddish eyes and the mighty pleasing voice and the dialect to match the eyes, displays fair talent, gets away with his stories in great shape and makes every one happy down in front.

MONKEY BITES BOY IN FIGHT OVER CAKE

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—Listening to an Italian's hurdy-gurdy and watching the antics of a "tame" monkey, James A. Junion, 10 years old, of 1005 Ogden street, became too friendly with the animal and the result spent several hours in the Children's Homeopathic hospital while the doctors cauterized severe monkey bites.

James, who had just come from a store with some cakes, was attracted by the music and stood watching the monkey climb a pole at Tenth street and Girard avenue. He thought the animal would be a jolly morsel for the animal and offered one to him. The monkey was hungry and ate with relish. Another was offered, but this time James wanted to test the friendship of the animal, and coaxed him to climb up on his arm, which the monkey did. Then James held the cake slightly out of reach. This angered the monkey, and he buried his teeth in James' chest. An ugly bite was the result.

MISSING HUSBAND IS BRIDE'S FIRST CALLER

NEW ORLEANS, June 27.—The first caller at the honeymoon home of Peter Marial and David A. Billington was Peter Marial, husband No. 1 of the bride. He had been missing six years and had been properly mourned as dead by his wife.

Breaking the Unit Rule.

Breaking the unit rule at Baltimore is an evidence of how weakened the State's Rights idea, even among Democrats, has become. The unit rule was based on the doctrine of state sovereignty. The Democratic party from its first organization claimed to be the special guardian of the States and the conservator of the powers reserved to the States in the Constitution. Hence the Democratic conception of the Federal government was a loose confederacy of independent commonwealths invested with limited powers especially granted it in the Constitution. Thomas Jefferson, founder of the Democratic party, had an amendment inserted in the Constitution stating that all powers not expressly granted (by the States) to the Federal government were reserved to the States.

When the Democratic party was organized in Andrew Jackson's day, the unit rule was adopted as symbolic of State sovereignty and the attitude of the Democratic party toward that doctrine. A two-thirds majority was required to nominate, ostensibly to make a nomination impressive, but in reality to preserve the popular equilibrium under the unit rule. Therefore the two-thirds rule is a complement of the unit rule. The abandonment of the unit rule involves the abolition of the two-thirds rule.

Oddly enough the Democrats broke the unit rule to popularize their organization, but the resolution breaking it embodies a contradiction. The right of district representation is left to the mercy of the legislatures of the several States. By primary law the unit rule can be imposed in a convention that has expressly repudiated it. The resolution adopted at Baltimore tightens the Johnson cinch in California and cuts the bond in Ohio. The Clark men who voted to break the unit rule voted to put obstacles in the path of their own candidate and to aid the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson. Breaking the unit rule was not the assertion of the principle of district representation, but a matter of expediency, and in the game Woodrow Wilson has gained and Champ Clark has lost. Harmon has been eliminated by splitting his vote in Ohio.

Thirty years ago the Republican party abandoned the rule and set up the doctrine that each Congressional district was entitled to choose its own delegates and alternates free from dictation from the State-at-large, and that principle was asserted when the Taft delegates from the Fourth district were seated, despite the primary law of California, which was devised to impose the unit rule on the delegates from this State in violation of Republican party law.

It is obvious that the Democrats made an exception to fit the California case. They did it to catch votes. By allowing State legislatures to set aside the rule of representation in national conventions they have made a bid for the votes of the so-called Progressive Republicans while asserting the principle that was upheld by the Taft majority in the Chicago convention.

The Colonel said he wouldn't bolt, but he did. He also said he wouldn't be a candidate for a third term, but he was. Likewise he has contradicted himself upon nearly every important issue before the country.

The Recrudescence of Bryan.

Bryan has again demonstrated that he is easily the biggest man in his party—biggest in the sense that he has by far the largest personal following and is able to exert more influence on the popular mind than any other man in the Democratic ranks. His hold on the popular imagination is one of the marvels of politics. It is without precedent in our political history, and persists despite a succession of disastrous defeats and the efforts of coalitions of State leaders to destroy his popularity and throw off his leadership. Bryan has been downed in politics oftener than any man figuring as a national leader in public life, but he has always come back. His mistakes are condoned because the mass of the American people believe him to be sincere and honest and that he is striking at grave evils even when he is suggesting empirical remedies.

Then, again, Bryan's pet theories—many of them at least—are no longer strange and unpopular. He has been consistent while his imitators have been inconsistent, and he has clung to his beliefs as stoutly in defeat as in success, and now has the gratification of seeing Roosevelt, who denounced him as an anarchist only a few years ago, proclaiming Bryanism as the alchemy of political and moral progress.

The bolt at Chicago was really an apotheosis of Bryan and his political tenets. That it should recur at Baltimore was quite natural. Moreover, it was both reasonable and expedient for the Democratic convention to array itself under his leadership. Radicalism is rife in the Democratic party, and the one hope of the Democratic party in this campaign is in catching the radicals of all parties. They cannot defeat Taft by nominating a conservative against him nor can they rob Roosevelt of his stolen issue by abjuring it and abandoning the leader who first discovered and promulgated it. It would simply make Roosevelt formidable without weakening Taft for the Democrats to assume an attitude of conventional negation in the present campaign.

A radical on a conservative platform will not do, still less a conservative on a radical platform. The platform must fit the candidate, and both must be animated with the aggressive radicalism of Bryan or the Democratic campaign will break down the moment the convention adjourns.

The Roosevelt White League.

The formation of a Roosevelt "White League" in Georgia is notice that the colored brother will not be made welcome at the national progressive love feasts. Booker Washington tried to pay for his invitation to lunch at the White House by persuading the colored delegates to forsake Taft at Chicago, but met with no success. They resisted the blandishments of Booker Washington and would not sell themselves for the long green. They could not see what the negro race gained by the principal of Tuskegee being invited to lunch with the President, and they could see that the colored people would lose political standing if they broke their pledges and proved false to the obligations they assumed when they were elected. A good deal was said prior to the meeting of the convention about the shaky character and loose morals of the colored delegates, but the test proved them to be steadfast and reliable. The white delegates behaved no better—some of them not so well. While Roosevelt's supporters are organizing "white leagues" in the South, colored men will naturally stand aloof. They cannot be expected to join a movement which begins with the formation of proscriptive organizations in the region where the white man's foot is always on the negro's neck.

Only the purblind can discern progression in Rooseveltism. The latter is a mixture of ambition, egotism and opportunism, seizing upon anything that promises to be popular in the hope that it will further personal advancement. True progress is a steady, sure-footed movement forward and upward, making changes for the better and only abandoning old and tried instrumentalities when others better fitted for the work in hand are found. Mere change is not progress; it often destroys stability without making an advance. When Roosevelt changes his mind he insists that principles and parties must change with him. Otherwise they are to be condemned.

"The Enterprise will not climb into the Taft band-wagon," says the Chico Enterprise. Of course not. The editor of the Enterprise is an appointee of Governor Johnson.

POLITICIANS VS. FARMERS

A condensed philosophy of high value is contained in an article which Benjamin F. Youkum contributed to a recent issue of Leslie's Weekly.
"We have quit the politician," writes Mr. Youkum, "and taken up the farmer." This sounds a primary note in the attitude of the whole country at present. People everywhere are "giving up the politician." It remains for them to take up the farmer and the majority of our current ills will vanish.
Mr. Youkum gives abundant reasons for his faith. The American farmer is not making the best of his opportunities, as is shown by a survey of what farmers are doing in Germany, where the soil has had to be renewed by scientific processes over and over again, but where crops are still from 40 to 100 per cent more abundant than those in the United States.
As for the American farmer, he is also in need of intelligent aid. In many instances he needs irri-gation plants. In other cases territories he needs drainage. Attention has been brought about in the

BRIGHT CROP OUTLOOK

The Department of Agriculture tells a rather pleasing story to the country. While there will be a falling off in winter wheat, as compared with 1911, as had been expected, the spring wheat makes an unlooked for favorable showing, which will make the total wheat yield 7,000,000 bushels greater than it was last year. As the harvest for wheat is so near at hand, the government's figures are not likely to be changed materially in the few weeks which separate us from the gathering of the crop. A large gain is shown to be probable in oats and barley, and a smaller, but important, increase is likely to come in rye.
This is excellent news for producers and consumers. Food producers are sure of a ready market for all their commodities, however large the yield may be, while the present prospect is that it will be big enough this year to prevent any increase in price to the consumer. The high cost of living is a serious menace to prosperity. One of the reasons for the advance in food prices is that supply fails to keep pace with demand. Population in the cities grows much faster than in the farming regions. The $1,600,000 increase in inhabitants annually is not met by a proportionate gain in the output of the farms. The farm yield, indeed, has been practically stationary for years.
Only one crop, that of cotton, made a good showing in 1911, although most of the others were well up to the average of the previous five years, and some of them were above that line. This year cotton will be later than it was in 1911, because of the unreasonably cool weather in May. Moreover, the acreage is somewhat smaller now than it was then. While a 16,000,000 bale yield is not looked for by anybody in 1912, there is a possibility that all the other records, the highest of which was a little under 15,000,000 bales, may be equaled. Notwithstanding the country's wide diversity in products, agriculture still holds a prominent place in our economic scheme. At the present moment there is a fair probability that agriculture will give a good account of itself when, a few months hence, the score for the year is made up.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

People who express a willingness to do anything in the world for you may be the first to back away when you ask a small favor.

Many a woman goes to her grave with the one regret that she had a lot of baggage in remembrance saved up that she never got a chance to use.—Chicago News.

AT 110 STOCKTON MAN SEEKS PLACE TO DIE

STOCKTON, June 27. — Bent under the weight of 110 years and suffering from a disease that will likely cause his death in the near future, P. H. Healy, a California pioneer whose feats of physical endurance have attracted attention throughout the State, has applied for admission to the San Joaquin county hospital.

Until recently Healy enjoyed robust health, and two years ago, when he was 108 years of age, he chopped a cord of wood a day for three months. This test of his strength attracted widespread attention at the time. Healy was never married, and, in enumerating his qualities and achievements, it might be mentioned that he was never any money. He was born in Ireland May 7, 1802.

JAPANESE BRINGS SUIT FOR INJURY TO WIFE

STOCKTON, June 27. — F. T. Ume-zaki, secretary of the local Japanese association, has begun a $25,000 suit against the Western States Gas and Electric company following an accident that occurred on South Broadway several weeks ago, when his wife, Toshiko Umezaki, was run down and injured by one of the automobiles.

It is set forth in the complaint that the car was being driven at a reckless rate of speed, and that the woman had no warning of its approach. It is affirmed that she suffered a fractured ankle and injury to the spine, and that she will never fully recover her health.

TWENTY YEARS.

Makes a great difference in most women. They are troubled with "nerves"—they suffer from backache, headache, a sensation of irritability or twitching, hot flashes, dizzy spells, or many other symptoms of female weakness. The local disorder and inflammation should be treated with Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets and the irregularity and weakness of the female system corrected and strengthened with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The strain upon the young woman or the woman of middle age—upon the nerve and blood forming structures—may be too great for her strength. This is the time to take this restorative tonic and strengthening nerve and regulator. For over forty years sold by druggists and strengthening nervous and regulating. For over forty years sold by druggists and strengthening nervous and regulating. For over forty years sold by druggists and strengthening nervous and regulating.

Mrs. Scott.

Following letter selected at random from a large number of similar ones and cited merely to illustrate these remarks:

In the winter of 1906, I became greatly run down and irregular, wrote Mrs. H. Scott, of Swan Creek, Iowa, Box 4, "I slowly but surely grew worse, and at last, resolved to apply to the doctor for help. The doctor said I had inflammation, enlargement and laceration. I was in bed eleven weeks and got no better. The doctor said I would have to have an operation, but that I would not listen. My husband purchased two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I had taken three bottles I could feel myself gaining, so I dropped the doctor and took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Only for it I think I would have been dead. I really believe it saved my life. I feel better now than I twenty years."

OAKLAND AWAITS FERRIS HARTMAN AT IDORA PARK

"MUGGINS" DAVIES.

That the coming engagement of the Ferris Hartman company as the big free attraction in the open-air amphitheater is going to prove the biggest sensation ever sprung at Idora Park is the prediction of those up in the "show business." During the past few years Idora has presented many expensive features, but never has so much interest been aroused as over the announcement of the coming of Hartman and his company as a free attraction.

The train covered the entire state over the Southern Pacific lines, and then was taken over the Northwestern Pacific. Every one interested in horticulture, viticulture, agriculture, stock-raising, or in any industry that has to do with the soil, who listened to the lectures, has pronounced them of great benefit to the entire state.

DETECTOR TO STOP TRAINS MILES AWAY

LONDON, June 27.—Herr von Kramer, inventor of the system of communicating by telephone from moving trains, says he has invented a sensitive detector, whereby it is able to pick up feeble currents received by a train and relay them up into stronger currents so as to operate electric bells and hooters, and even apply brakes. He declares that a signalman from ten to twenty miles away will thereby be enabled to stop a train by merely pressing a button.

CANADIANS ASKED TO SUBMIT NAVY BIDS?

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—A news dispatch received in San Francisco yesterday states that the Board of Trade of Vancouver, B. C., sends out information that it has received an invitation from the United States Navy Department to submit tenders or bids for supplying coal for the entire Pacific coast fleet of the navy.

At the local naval headquarters it was stated that nothing was known of such action. The cruiser West Virginia, attached to the Puget Sound navy yard at Bremerton, Wash., has been engaged in testing coals for two years, more recently using coal mined in Colorado. It is claimed that the British Columbia coal maintains a maximum of steam on two-thirds the quantity of coal ordinarily used, but nothing is known here of such tests.

'PASEAR' TOURISTS MOTOR OVER MOJAVE

El Camino Sierra Route Now Being Traveled by Studebaker Pathfinder.

MOJAVE, June 27.—El Camino Sierra began to assume definite shape to the "Pasear" who arrived in this city last evening in their four Studebaker E-M-F cars. The journey from Los Angeles, which the motorists left yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, occupied less than seven hours. The route chosen by the travelers was via the Newhall tunnel thence to Mint canyon and Acton.

The scenery through which the motor cars passed yesterday has presented a remarkable change from that of the preceding two weeks. Contrary to expectations, the trip across the lower end of the Mojave desert was thoroughly enjoyable. The grotesque Joshua trees and the wonderful vistas of the mountain ranges which almost surround this end of California make up a picture which proved decidedly fascinating. Added to this was an unusually clear day.

Today the journey will be resumed, with Big Pine as the objective point for the night. Maynard Dixon, the artist; Carl Westerland, who represents Governor Johnson, and a representative of Percy J. Walker of the American Automobile Association will join the tourists tomorrow.

All four Studebaker cars still retain perfect scores as far as mechanical trouble is concerned.

BRINEGAR WRITES OF FESTIVAL.

"Detroit is going to hold a big birthday party. On a recent visit to Detroit I was much interested in the city's preparations for Cadillac week, which is to be a big water fête and land carnival in commemoration of the founding of Detroit by Cadillac," writes E. P. Brinegar, head of the Pioneer Auto company and California representative of the Chalmers Motor company.

"In addition to making more automobiles than all the rest of the country, Detroit has long been known as a city of great historic interest. The Detroit Board of Commerce has decided to capitalize this historic interest and is promoting a big birthday party in which every citizen of Detroit and many thousands of visitors will participate. Detroit is planning in Cadillac week a carnival which, it is said, will surpass Mardi Gras and the other famous civic celebrations.

Bush, while a young man, is recognized as one of the aggressive leaders in the automobile industry.

Estate Trustees Must Approve

NEW YORK, June 27.—Under the terms of will of Mrs. Carolina Farnor Butterfield, filed yesterday, her granddaughter, Miss Dorothea Barlad Smith, will not come into a fortune estimated to be more than $1,000,000, unless she agrees to certain restrictions named in the will relating to her future as a married woman. Miss Smith may not marry any man to whom four of the five trustees of the will object. She may not marry her brothers and Miss Smith is prohibited from marrying any of them. The restriction, it is said, was due to bitterness of feeling between Mrs. Butterfield and the mother of the three brothers. She may also not enter into a hasty marriage but must consult her mother upon having matrimony in prospect.

Miss Butterfield will set forth the cause she feared the fortune might get into the possession of "bookkeepers and incompetent persons."

FORTY STATES JOIN IN CIVIC DISCUSSION CLUBWOMEN SOUND IN CONVENTION KEYNOTE FOR THEIR "HIGH IDEALS"

PROGRESS NEW WATCHWORD OF CLAN

Politics Done in Soft Slippers
and Harmony Still Rules Delegates.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Still fresh and enthusiastic, the 2400 delegates of the biennial convention of the Federated Women's clubs, assembled this morning in Sutter Pavilion for the second day's deliberations. This morning's session was devoted to further committee reports, Mrs. Louise Graham speaking for transportation, Mrs. Elmer Blair on membership, Mrs. Eugene Kelley on printing, Mrs. C. H. McMahon in behalf of publicity, Mrs. Harry L. Koefe in regard to the new badges, and Mrs. Mary I. Wood, reporting on club history.

Mrs. William Tod Helmuth presented the greetings of the pioneer workers of the Federation, and this was followed by reports of department chairmen, dealing with municipal, civic and educational questions. The convention adjourned at noon to meet this afternoon in Golden Gate Commandery Hall.

The biennial, itself, seems in full swing. The sessions and committee conferences of the last few days displayed satisfactorily of all the preliminaries, and the delegates are now confronted with a program that calls for summary action. Yesterday was a day of reports, chiefly centering on those which dealt with education, progress in the school, more pay, better teachers, higher and finer ideals.

Mrs. Phillip Carpenter of New York, one of the foremost women in the convention—the woman whose name is mentioned most frequently in connection with the next presidency of the Federation—gave voice to the main idea of the delegates when she said:

"The most important thing that the women can accomplish is to get you know that women are born housekeepers. They know how to look after the small details. They have a genius for that. They will look out for the offices of the nation better. They will insist on good men in office and that the offices are run along better lines. They will insist on purity of government."

GRANDMA OF CONVENTION.

Professor Maria L. Sanford, of the University of Minnesota, swayed the convention for an hour and a half with the force and fire and magnetism which she displayed in her topic: "Moral Power in the School Room." Mrs. Sanford is slim, old-fashioned and seventy years of age, yet she stood before all those gayly dressed delegates and spoke straight from the shoulder. They applauded her, too. "Side by side with the glorious possibilities and splendid records of our schools there are grave and threatening dangers. They are evil influences that must be met and counteracted by a strong and vital current of righteousness."

"It is no numby-pamby teaching that we seek. Let it not be for a moment that we imagine that this effort would weaken strongholds of learning; that it is in any way an attempt to substitute sentiment for scholarship. On the contrary, it would strengthen and increase the demand for thorough training because it would heighten the comprehension of the value of life. We would not abate one iota of the present demand for wide learning and clear thinking."

NEED MORAL POWER.

"We are asking everything else of our teachers; we are demanding college degrees and special training. If we want teachers of spiritual power we must create a demand for them, we must refuse responsibility positively to those who do not possess it. The money value of education we know well, but its priceless value to the soul, its power to build—"

"Those angel stairways in the brain."

Which lead from these low vaulted days

To spacious sunshines free from pain—" these are too apt to overlook. We plead for a moral power in the schoolroom which shall draw from all the sources of knowledge incentives to the full and perfect use of life and which shall open wide the floodgates to stronger thoughts and more resolute endeavors."

Mrs. Phillip N. Moore, in her annual report, struck most of the responsive convention chords. In enumerating the work of the last two years, the president mentioned the pure foods efforts of the Federation, the saving of Niagara, the forest land preservation, and the establishment of the national children's bureau.

The department of education, of which Mrs. O. Shepard Barnum is president, was the feature of the day in the matter of conference reports. Mrs. Barnum had prepared a neat little pamphlet which gave each delegate in black and white, the results of the department's efforts, which Mrs. Barnum termed "tremendous."

SUBJUDGED POLITICS.

The campaign for president is still being conducted like a game of chess, with just as much silence. There is hearing the name of Mrs. Phillip N. Carpenter of New York, and of the blue ribbons which class the wearers as supporters of Mrs. Percy Penneyack of Texas. Yet for all that, these very two candidates were closeted together in a hotel suite yesterday afternoon, just as chummy as college room-mates.

Of Miss Penneyack it is stated that she brought about the following results in Texas while she was president of the state federation: An endowed scholarship in the Texas University, free scholarships for young women in various institutions, a home for young women at the state university, the establishment of the Texas College of Industrial Arts, and the passage of the poll tax law. As present chairman of the General Federation field committee she has secured an endowment of $100,000. She is the author of a widely used Texas history.

Mrs. Carpenter is a member of the New York bar and was the first woman to win a case in the Court of Appeals in that state. She has been president of the New York State Federation, Secretary and National Society of New England Women and the Women Lawyers' Club. She is a graduate of Mills College, California.

CITIZENS REQUESTED TO FURNISH AUTOS

THE directors of the Chamber of Commerce desire to impress upon the citizens of Oakland the exceptional opportunity for a display of civic hospitality in the entertainment of the delegates to the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who are to be the guests of the east bay shore cities on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 2. The representative character of the women attending this convention, who come from all parts of the country, makes it of the greatest importance that they carry away with them lasting and favorable impressions of this community.

The Women's Clubs of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley have undertaken the part of hostesses for the day, and the officers and members of the Chamber of Commerce, as well as citizens generally, are urged to lend them the most cordial co-operation.

Denison, president of the California local biennial board, introduced Mrs. Joseph E. Cowles of Los Angeles, first vice-president of the Federation, and Mrs. L. L. Blankenburg, wife of Philadelphia's reform mayor. The latter said:

"We have the word of the expert accountant who audited the books of the General Federation of Women's Clubs that they are the best kept set of books he ever examined."

"Our gallant Kentucky statesmen still class oratorically with whiskey and horses," said Mrs. Desha Breckenridge, the next speaker, "but politically they class with us 'idiots and imbeciles.' She then proceeded to prove the possession of a ready wit by the skill with which she presented a brief for women's suffrage.

lative Bill.

Navy Yards to Lay Off Men
Unless Pay Measure
Passes.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Senate made the first move today to relieve the government from the embarrassing situation arising from the failure of Congress to pass many of the large supply bills.

The Senate appointed conferees to meet representatives of the House on the legislative bill. This carries the salaries and mileage of members of Congress, the judiciary, president's salary and many other items, none of which can be paid after July 1, unless the bill is passed and signed by the president. It is said he will veto it because of the provisions which abolishes the commerce court.

Unless some action is taken on the army appropriation bill and the navy appropriation bill before Monday practically all the navy yards will lay their men and army officers will be without pay. Government officials were confident today that Congress would meet the emergency with a blanket resolution extending all present appropriations into the new year.

Hadley of Missouri confirmed today the statements of Colonel Roosevelt and Comptroller Prendergast of New York, that Taft leaders had offered at Chicago to seat the Roosevelt delegates from Washington and Texas if Roosevelt would consent to the nomination of Governor Hadley or some other third man. Governor Hadley passed through here today on his way to fill Chautauqua engagements.

"This proposal was made to me and I understood that it also was made to Colonel Roosevelt," said Hadley. "I refused to consider or discuss it unless it first had the approval of Colonel Roosevelt, as I was for him for the nomination and no one else. I was told afterwards that Colonel Roosevelt had refused his consent."

CRISIS IN WAR IN MEXICO IS AT HAND

10,000 Men Face Each Other
With Federals Ready to Attack.

Foreigners in City of Chihuahua Fear Looting and Rioting.

CHIHUAHUA, June 27.—The crisis in the Mexican revolution is at hand today. Five thousand rebels, well entrenched and fortified at Bachimba, 40 miles south of here, will, at any hour now, engage the federal columns of equal strength commanded by General Huerta.

At stake is the city of Chihuahua, for months under rebel control, a vital point in northern Mexico. There is tremendous tension here among foreigners, many of whom have raised their national flags over residences and business houses. It is generally realized that a rebel defeat or retreat would mean a disorganized, uncontrolled flight to the city of Chihuahua, with looting and rioting as a climax.

PREPARES FOR ATTACK.

AT THE FEDERAL HEADQUARTERS, ORTIZ, Mex., June 27.—General Huerta expects to have his artillery in position just ahead of Bachimba, seven miles south of Bachimba, by noon today, when he plans to open the attack on the rebel stronghold.

The government has sent out two flanking columns which should open on the right and left of the rebel positions simultaneously, with the artillery assault at the center.

General Huerta expects to be in the city of Chihuahua in five days and it is anticipated the rebels will blow up all bridges if they retreat from Bachimba.

MILKMAN HURT WHEN TEAM BOLTS

James Heron Thrown Out and Wheel Passes Over
His Face.

ALAMEDA, June 27.—James Heron, a driver for the Island Creamery, sustained injuries late last night in a runaway which may have a fatal termination. The accident happened at Park avenue and Central avenue, near the alley entrance leading to the rear of the creamery. Heron was thrown from his wagon when his team started to run and the wagon passed over him, one wheel running over his face and head. Heron was picked up insensible and carried to the Emergency hospital in the ambulance. Dr. J. J. Physician Arthur Hillyer attended him. A big hole in the top of his head is Heron's most serious injury. In addition, his upper lip is split clear to the nose and he has a laceration over one eye. His condition is feared because of the large amount of street dirt and dust which was ground into his wounds. It is feared that infection may ensue.

Heron showed a tremendous amount of nerve when he was restored to consciousness. He was moved to his home at 222 Isabella street, Oakland, after his injuries were treated. Heron's wagon was upset and a wagonload of milk bottles were smashed, 1500 street, forming a dangerous menace to autos and bicyclists until the broken glass was swept up this morning and removed.

TWO WOMEN ON BERKELEY FORCE

Mrs. Harry M. Wright Is Appointed Special Policeman
by City Council.

BERKELEY, June 27.—Mrs. Harry M. Wright, director of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, took up her duties today as a special agent in charge of the only animal policeman in Berkeley. The first was Mrs. Peter Rogers, wife of the derelict poundmaster, who secured an appointment from the city council to be the owner of an animal that attempted to impound in her husband's absence.

Mrs. Wright has been especially active in the case of the dog which attacked a half size has caused two arrests, convictions resulted in both cases. Handicapped children are always at the necessity of always finding a policeman to complete her tasks, she sought and received appointment from the council as a special agent.

Both women have all the powers of regular policemen, right up to the track-

The last thing that Mrs. Wright wants to do is to have her husband appointed special without pay, however. Mrs. Wright intends limiting her activities to the enforcement of the anti-graft laws, while Mrs. Rogers will employ her powers chiefly in the assistance of her husband.

HAYWARD, June 27. — According to old residents, rain in such quantities as fell during the early part of the week is not remembered since the days of the early days of the city.

mer of 1870 when the rains were so heavy that threshing was stopped all over the county. M. C. Peterson said today that weather conditions are the most unusual he has ever seen in this end of the county. He is one of the pioneers of this section.

The farmers are complaining of damage done to hay and grain crops during the past few days. Much of the hay in this section was ready for baling. Royal Anne cherries have been damaged more than any other by the rains.

ation Reduces

off our selling price—means that you get much of a saving to you. So that our average reduction on these 574 instruments amounts to $167.

Never before have you been offered terms as low as $1 a week—even on cheap pianos of unknown make. And therefore when such high grade pianos as the Chickering, Kimball, Lester, Decker, Autopiano and Burdette are offered on terms of $1 a week, the advantages of the big sale are more apparent than the chain of 40 Birmingham stores and the seven largest American piano companies.

We cannot give you the benefits of these prices or of these terms after the 574 pianos and players are sold, and they are being sold at a tremendous rate. The piano buyers all over the world have been quick to recognize the tremendous values, the big savings of our new plan. And the 11 a week term have appealed to everybody. A family can afford the most modest income can afford $1 a week. It makes the boy or the girl happy. Come in today and pick one out. Forty still to select from in the most beautiful San Domingo mahogany, 11 crescent oak, dark walnut, golden oak, dark oak or other woods, or special Continental designs in the new dull finish. One dollar a week is easy to pay. Get your piano today—as soon as you arrange for it the big auto takes you home for you. If you have a car both San Francisco and Los Angeles stores are open until 11 o'clock. Remember the big distribution. Remember that you get a brand new piano at high grade at $1 a week. GRAIN MARKET

ON UPWARD TURN

Active Demand From Commission Men Puts Backbone in Corn.

CHICAGO, June 27.—After a dip in prices, wheat today showed a decided bounce. Strength which developed in other western markets, and which was attributed to hot weather, brought about the upturn. Bid offerings disappeared with remarkable suddenness. First figures were the same as last night to 1/4¢ lower. September started at $1.04 1/2, and changed to 5¢ off, and then rose to $1.05 1/2. Closing prices were steady with September 1/4¢ up to $1.05 1/2. Active demand from commission men put backbone into the corn market. September started at $1.05 1/2, and changed to 1/4¢ up to $1.05 1/2. The close was firm, 1/4¢ higher, at $1.05 1/2. For September, $1.05 1/2; for October, $1.05 1/2; for November, $1.05 1/2; for December, $1.05 1/2. Weather was fine, 74 to 84, with a light breeze. Provisions appeared to be unaffected but kept fairly steady. First sales were unchanged in a shade below, with September unchanged at $15.70 for pork, $11.00 for lard and $10.50 for ribs.

You can do this if you have somewhere in your makeup a streak of salesmanship which can be developed under our training.

ACTRESS POINTS OUT LESSON IN ORPHEUM SKETCH

MISS FANNIE STEADMAN.

Her new-found friends in Orpheum vaudeville circles are telling Florence Roberts that she had made a poor choice of a vehicle in which to travel the rocky road to vaudeville wealth and fame.

She should, they say, have selected for her entrance into vaudeville a sketch with a "punch" in it. It should be a play built around Florence Roberts. It should give her an opportunity to display that intense and repressed emotional side in which, in "Zaza," she rivaled Leslie Carter.

A woman more selfish and vain than Florence Roberts would be dissatisfied with "The Miracle." But Florence Roberts is satisfied. She told why today.

"Are we on the stage," she asked, "to be denied the privilege enjoyed by others, of having mixed motives? Do you hold the minister culpable if he preaches in return for preaching Christianity and right living, he accepts a salary? Do you question his motives because he is paid for his work?"

The minister preaches two audiences—generally slim ones—a week. Florence Roberts preaches a 30-minute sermon twice a day to packed houses. Should I, then, exercise less care in selecting my audience and subject-matter than the minister? Am I to let my personal vanity and my purse always, or may I be permitted to give ear to conscience?

Let me tell you again the story of "The Miracle." A good man loves a good woman who is also loved by a man who is not good. The bad man has deserted a girl who died. He makes the good woman believe that it was his rival who deserted the girl. In pique and anger, she marries the bad man, though she loves the good one.

DIES BY OWN HAND.

"The wicked husband dies by his own hand to escape arrest and exposure for embezzlement. Before dying, he writes from his rival a private letter to tell all one of the true motives which prompted the suicide. The widow believes that her husband killed himself because he had learned that his wife loved another, and weighs upon her conscience, and until she learns the truth, she will not marry the man she loves. He cannot tell her the truth, because of a promise given. The truth, then, is locked in the breast of a dead man."

"The dramatist exercises his license and reveals the truth to the woman in a psychic message from the grave. This is the miracle. But miracles do not happen in real life. They happen in the world of the stage. We must not look for them."

"In a long and busy life—I am getting old—I have seen unhappiness. One meets it on the stage. Beneath the paint and the make-up, one sees the pain and the very human. And sometimes we are very weak and foolish. The villain is often one of the best men. The hero is often neither brave nor good. Oh, we are all kinds, like you."

"We make the same mistakes that you make. And we suffer the same penalties. I have known women to marry for money, for social position, for a home. I have known women to marry because they were tired, or because of a momentary whim. And I have known women to marry in pique—the wrong man. And they are not happy. They seek relief in the divorce courts—or they don't. It's terrible when they don't. It's doubly terrible when they do."

"To live with your mistake, to be reminded of it a dozen times a day, to dissemble your sorrow, to laugh when you would rather weep—that is the refinement of unhappiness."

"The Miracle" is my poor sermon. Boiled down its message is: "Don't do it. Marry for love, and love only. When you have found the right one, thank God for the greatest of all miracles."

"The big crowds are again packing the Oakland Orpheum to the doors at every performance this week, despite the fact that it is the midsummer season when theatricals in most quarters are expected to be at a standstill. It is strange, however, that the Orpheum bills are more noteworthy. Then it is that many great dramatic stars are secured who could not be gotten at any other time of the year. Many featured acts are on the bill, including that of Al and Fannie Steadman."

LIGHTNING DOES DAMAGE IN NORTH

Strikes Two Persons, Wrecks Houses and Plays Many Pranks.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 27.—Portland and the northwest were visited by electrical storms yesterday which played more fantastic freaks than the oldest residents have any memory of. The lightning struck in fully a dozen places in this city. It hit two persons, shocked a number of others, damaged several houses, set fire to a school building and tore a hole up in Westover terrace big enough to set a big automobile in.

At Philomath a bolt demolished a telephone pole thirty feet in front of a woman who was wheeling a baby in a carriage. Neither mother nor child was hurt. At Seattle one man was struck and injured by lightning.

Reports of damage to trees, poles and buildings have been received from half a dozen northwest points. The most remarkable escape from death was that of Leonard Mahan, a grocer's clerk. He was struck by a bolt of lightning and, save for being severely stunned and suffering slight pains in his head and side, he is unhurt. What saved his life is probably the fact that he was working a rubber tire onto his motorcycle and the rubber broke the current.

DEMOLISHES POLE. This bolt first hit and demolished a telephone pole. Then it jumped 350 feet across the block and went down the chimney of a building. It tore the chimney to pieces, passing into the living room of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Topich. Mrs. Topich was knocked partially senseless, and when she recovered she found her cook stove ripped asunder. Continuing down the chimney, the bolt entered the bicycle repair shop of S. M. Call on the ground floor.

Here it tore out the stovepipe and knocked open the stove door, jumped clear across the room and struck Mahan squarely on the back of the left hand, burning a purple scar about the size of a quarter. It toppled Mahan over with the force of the shock and the fright, and then the lightning splintered two boards of a small cupboard in the front of the store and burned the fuse out of a passing trolley car.

Charging a power pole on the west side of the Shaver grammar school, Mississipi avenue and Morris street, a huge bolt of lightning set fire to the school building. The flames were extinguished by a small fire engine. The neighborhood was shaken by the force of the bolt.

Another bolt of lightning smashed a hole six feet in diameter in the roof of the dwelling of John H. Abbott at 831 Capitol avenue. No one was hurt.

On Willamette Heights a powerful blast of lightning battered down the side of the ground, moving several thousand yards of earth and rock.

HOOPS HELPS TO ARREST HIMSELF

Is Welcomed With Warrant When He Seeks Police Protection.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—When Frederick Hoops rushed in the Central station this morning and demanded protection from a man who was pursuing him, he little expected the police would be given him.

Not only were the officers ready and anxious to protect him, but that in order that no harm might come to his person, they placed him behind the bars in the city prison and charged him with assault with a deadly weapon. The whole trouble, according to Hoops, goes back to the time when he was employed in a Chinese undertaking establishment. The body of a highbinder was brought in and in the back pocket Hoops found a revolver which he appropriated. Last night he had an argument with B. Taylor in a room at 848 Kearny street, and in the quarrel that followed Hoops pulled out the weapon on twice, but no cartridge was exploded. The revolver was useless and his antagonist seized a beer bottle and made at him. The pursuit led through the streets of the city until Hoops took refuge in the Central station. On Taylor's complaint he was locked up.

RICHMOND, June 27.—The organization of a coffee club for this city will be brought about in the immediate future, as many of the club women and church workers, after an investigation of the coffee clubs maintained in other cities, have become convinced that such an institution would prove a public benefit here. A. Aymer Hardin, a well known organizer of such institutions, will be here soon to discuss the matter. It is proposed to provide a place where good, clean meals will be served at low prices and where the most constant reading and hearing, smoking and game facilities, with an assembly hall for lectures and amusements. It is thought it will be welcomed by a large number of single men in the city who have no place of recreation.

The surveyors have completed all other work on this avenue, as well as the extension to Washington avenue, and are now installing rails ready to be installed. $1000-A-YEAR CLERK RETIRE ON SAVINGS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 27.—Alfred Wender, for 23 years a postoffice clerk earning a moderate salary, surprised Postmaster T. J. Akins Friday by presenting his resignation.

"Are you sick?" asked Akins. "No," replied Wender with a broad smile. "I've just decided to retire and spend the remainder of my life living in ease on my savings."

Knowing Wender for the first 23 years of his service earned only $1000 a year, and that for the last year he earned only $100 a month, Akins was eager to know how Wender had saved enough to retire on, but he did not question the former clerk.

Wender volunteered he had only had saved enough to take care of himself in his old age, but that he had educated his family.

"They are all married now and settled," said Wender. "I have no one to take care of for me, and I'm going to enjoy myself."

Wender, who is 69 years old, has been a model clerk, Akins said. For years he was in the foreign mail department. Wender requested his resignation be made effective immediately, and instead of returning to his work departed for his home.

Suddenly the ape attacked another woman passenger and bit her on the arm. Her cries brought the conductor, who dragged the ape away, and the animal and the woman owner disappeared. The woman was not seriously hurt, as her long gloves protected her.
